Privacy Authority

This Privacy Authority is valid to the extent permitted by law and does not seek to override any mandatory provisions of the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth). For instance, Platinum Pour's rights to manage information about companies may differ from those concerning individuals, particularly regarding commercial versus consumer credit worthiness.

Collection, Use, and Disclosure of Information:

Platinum Pour may collect, store, use, and disclose information about the Customer and Guarantors as described in our Privacy Policy and Credit Reporting Data Management Policy, available at <http://www.platinumpour.com/legal/privacy-policy>. These documents detail how we handle personal and credit-related information.

Consents Granted by Customer Parties:

1. Each Customer Party consents to Platinum Pour:
 - Obtaining and utilising information from credit reporting bodies to assess credit applications and manage overdue payments.
 - Exchanging information with third parties (including credit providers and referees) for assessing credit applications, managing payments, and evaluating guarantor applications.
 - Utilising and sharing information for operational purposes, direct marketing (unless opted out), and promotional activities, subject to individual rights outlined in our policies.

2. Acknowledgment by Customer Parties:
 - Recognition that specific laws require Platinum Pour to collect certain personal information.
 - Understanding that without collecting this information, Platinum Pour may not be able to process the credit application.
 - Authorisation for Platinum Pour to engage with trade insurers for assessing creditworthiness and risk of default.

3. Use and Disclosure for Various Purposes:
 - Includes purposes such as:
 - Delivery of goods and services.
 - Customer, agent, or contractor support and selection.
 - Marketing activities, with an option to opt-out of direct marketing.
 - Internal administrative, planning, product development, and research requirements.

4. Privacy Authority:
 - Allows for information sharing with guarantors, potential guarantors, and for promotional purposes.
 - Specifies the rights of individuals regarding their personal and credit information, including access, correction, and complaint procedures.
